Economy:

The suspense over highly anticipated US presidential election ended with Donald Trump being elected as 47th president of United States. The Republican Party regaining control of the Senate and defending its majority in the House of Representatives, shall give Trump a unified government and a strong mandate to push through his legislative agenda of expansionary fiscal policy bringing back uncertainty around global inflation, trade wars, raised fiscal deficits and a stronger dollar. As a result of which FII outflow continued through the month of November, though at reduced pace against previous month despite fading enthusiasm over China stimulus. Domestically bumper kharif season and seasonal impact seem to auger well for the food inflation print going forward.

As of 15th November 2024, year on year deposit growth (11.21%) in Banking sector continued to outpace credit growth (11.15%) demonstrating success of recent RBI measures to bring down CD ratio in the system. The mellowing of credit growth may indicate some slowdown in consumption and higher household savings. India's Gross Goods and Services Tax (GST) collections continued to exhibit strong trend in November at Rs.1.82 lakh crore growing at 8.9% on year. However, with reduced urban as well as rural consumption high frequency indicators continued to demonstrate some sluggishness.

India CPI rose to a 14-month high of 6.2% in Oct-24 from 5.49% in Sep-24, crossing the upper limit of the RBI's inflation tolerance band. The rise in inflation was due to surge in food inflation pressures, rising to a 15-month high, at 9.7% YoY in October. Within food, vegetable prices surged for the second consecutive month due to unseasonal rainfall. Meanwhile edible oil prices were higher due to rise in import duties. Core inflation (ex. Tobacco) was slightly higher at 3.7% in October. India WPI inflation too printed higher at 2.36% YoY in October 2024 (September: 1.84%), led by rise in food prices. WPI core inflation reported a nearly flat annual growth. IIP growth for September 24 stood at 3.1% YoY after a 0.1% decline in August 24. Growth was led by Manufacturing 3.9%. 18 of 23 manufacturing sectors were in positive territory in September against previous month.

India GDP moderated to 5.4% YoY in 3QFY24, its lowest since Mar 2023 Vs 6.7% in 2QFY24. Slowdown was evident in both capex and private consumption. However, consumption growth at 6% outpaced capex growth of 5.4%. GVA slowed to 5.6% YoY in 3QFY24 from 6.8% in 2QFY24, with net indirect taxes continuing to decline in the current quarter. By sector, industry remained weak at 3.9% with manufacturing & electricity being a drag. Services sector remained steady at 7.1%, while agriculture rose to 3.5%.

Center's fiscal deficit in 7MFY25 came in at Rs. 7.51 lakh crore (46.5% of FY25BE) Vs Rs. 8.00 lakh crore in 7MFY24 led by the RBI's healthy dividend payment as well as the continuing YoY contraction in the capital expenditure. Net tax revenues were lower as the center released an advance instalment of tax devolution to states in addition to the regular instalment due in October. Revenues were supported by strong growth in personal income taxes, while corporate taxes remained weak. Direct tax growth in 7MFY25 was 12% YoY, supported by personal income tax growth of 27%, while corporate tax collections grew at 1.2%. Indirect tax receipt growth was 9.1% YoY, with GST revenues in line with the target. Revenue expenditure continued to hold pace even as the pace of capital expenditure continued to be weak.

India's Merchandise trade deficit rose to USD 27.1 bn in October from USD 20.8 bn in September. The rise was led by higher imports (+USD 11.0 bn MoM), which outpaced the rise in exports (+USD 4.6 bn MoM). The rise in imports was led by oil imports and non-oil non-gold imports. Gold imports also picked-up in October to USD 7.1 bn from USD 4.4 bn in September, with demand supported by festival season. On FYTD basis (Apr-Oct) trade deficit has widened to USD 164.7 bn in FYTD25 v/s USD 149.7 bn deficit in FYTD24, led by rise in net crude oil imports (29.1%YOY) and net gems & jewellery imports (14.1%YOY). Domestic currency slumped to all time low despite RBI's consistent efforts to protect it given continued dollar outflows, leading to drop in foreign exchange reserves from the peak of USD 705 bn to USD 657 bn as on 22 Nov 2024. Liquidity conditions turned tight during the month due to negative balance of payments & foreign investor outflows.

Global:

US initial jobless claims remained on a strong footing while continuing claims were at 3 Year high indicating slowdown in those laid off finding jobs. US retail sales grew 2.8% YoY in October 2024 with robust consumer spending helping the economy maintain its strong pace of growth. In October 2024, the U.S. economy added only 12,000 jobs, marking the slowest growth since 2020 due to heavy data distortions given recent hurricanes and the dockworkers strike. The unemployment rate held steady at 4.1%. While US PCE and core PCE prints remained flat, CPI rose 2.6% YoY in October 2024 (2.4% in September 2024), while core CPI rose by 3.3% YoY.

US FOMC delivered a rate cut of 25 bps in line with market consensus lowering rates to 4.50-4.75%. The FOMC stated that "the risks to achieving its employment and inflation goals were roughly in balance" a shift from its September assessment, where it expressed "greater confidence" in the outlook. FOMC minutes indicated that future course of action to be data dependent and ruled out any large size cuts in upcoming policies. China's policymakers announced USD 840 mn worth of debt swaps to allow local governments to refinance their off-balance sheet debt to revive the economy.

Fixed Income Outlook and Strategy:

Inflation stoking events like tax cuts, increased tariffs by US on its global trade partner may falter the downward inflation trajectory path and may compel Fed to adopt a cautious approach with respect to rate cuts going forward keeping global yields elevated. India witnessed some FPI outflows from debt segment given heightened volatility in global yields. However, this may have reduced effect on the domestic bond market because of the local government's fiscal prudence. Domestically headline inflation has likely peaked in October 2024, with some moderation in food inflation pressures in coming months is expected due to seasonality. De-escalation of geopolitical tensions in the Middle East should support lower oil prices. However, impact of imported inflation given global trade war concerns will hold the key in shaping inflation outlook going forward. Despite weaker growth prints RBI's razor-sharp focus on structurally bringing inflation to 4% may hold the rate cuts to the next calendar year. Thus, we are tactically managing our duration.

Equity Outlook and Strategy:

The second quarter domestic corporate earnings were weak, with consumption emerging as constrained, while select segments of BFSI witnessed asset-quality pressures. The weak government spending in the first half of the fiscal along with rainfall disruptions also impacted demand. We assess that the urban demand on a high base of last couple of years is normalizing while rural demand continues to gradually improve. As government spending picks pace in the remainder of the current fiscal along with a good kharif crop, we expect the corporate earnings to gather pace ahead. However, we believe margin expansion levers are limited because input prices are now normalizing and so is the credit cost for lenders. Demand revival is critical for both margins as well as absolute profits to improve. Post the results season, consensus earnings estimates have been recalibrated.

A comfortable majority for the incumbent state government in the politically and economically important state of Maharashtra has boosted political stability. However, the rise of populist schemes (largely targeting women beneficiaries via direct income transfer) is now entrenched amongst states. Even in the fiscally conservative state like Maharashtra, such scheme has taken centerstage. Fourteen states so far commenced income transfer schemes for adult women, taking annualized spend to more than rupees two trillion, translating into 0.6% of GDP. Much of the financing for these schemes comes from expenditure substitution and some from higher deficits. State capex (read employment generation expenditure) has already waned in last six months. Notably, the most populous states of UP and Bihar are yet to launch such schemes. The election calendar for 2025 is benign compared to 2024 with just two state elections- Delhi (Feb' 25) and Bihar (Nov/Dec' 25) due. Additionally, the convergence between deposit growth and credit growth implies that regulatory pressure to lower credit growth has peaked. We now expect the central government to accelerate capex and overrule the prospect of any fiscal stimulus from the center. However, while central fiscal deficit may continue to improve, the increasing shift towards populism in states will gradually weigh on India's consolidated fiscal deficit.

We feel from now on, the risks for India market are more external than local. The economic war against China by the west will accentuate under the new regime in the US. In a déjà vu moment, global supply chains are anticipated to get disrupted again, input commodity prices will be further volatile, and inflation may remain sticky, upsetting the global demand momentum. Increasing economic fragmentation ('self-reliance'), climate change costs and Al-driven innovations (skewing labor share and potential threat to India' services exports) are evolving real challenges. India's long-term trends remain intact and the recent correction in the markets offers pockets of attractive bottoms-up opportunities for long term wealth creation.
